- Food Safety Act 1990
- The General Food Regulations 2004

Overview

Food hygiene and safety is very good

	Annex 5 score
Compliance with Food Hygiene and Safety Procedures: Hand washing, stock rotation and cross contamination very well controlled- excellent practices seen. Joints are taking a long time to cool, you need to review this procedure.	5
Compliance with Structural Requirements: Premises is clean and in a very good condition	0
Confidence in Management/Control Procedures: Kitchen staff and well trained and very knowledgeable. They have support from an outside contractor providing advice when needed. You should look at your cooling hams and see if you can improve the cooling time. I would also recommend retaining records for at least a year.	5
